

Lets talk about ChatBots what they are and what will it lead to

Introductory discussion and moderated by Mike Jones
mikej@neemonic.com

From Wikipedia Chatterbot

A chatterbot (also known as a talkbot, chatbot, Bot, chatterbox, Artificial Conversational Entity) is a computer program which conducts a conversation via auditory or textual methods.

Such programs are often designed to convincingly simulate how a human would behave as a conversational partner, thereby passing the Turing test.

Some chatterbots use sophisticated natural language processing systems, but many simpler systems scan for keywords within the input, then pull a reply with the most matching keywords, or the most similar wording pattern, from a database.

Do you have flights to Iceland?

Ask Jenn

Do you have flights to Iceland?

We don't sell tickets to that destination. While there are some destinations that we don't sell tickets for, you can use miles to redeem tickets to most destinations around the world. Choose "Route Map" below to see destinations that we offer for purchase, or choose "Mileage Plan Award Chart" to see destinations available by using miles.

Do you have air sick bags on your planes?

Ask Jenn

Do you have air sick bags on your planes?

Our checked baggage fee for the first and second bag is $25 each, and $75 for each additional bag. Bags must weigh 50 pounds or less and have a maximum dimension of 62 linear inches (length + height + width.) Some travelers qualify to have this fee waived, to learn more review the graph.

Turing Test

The "standard interpretation" of the Turing Test, in which player C, the interrogator, is given the task of trying to determine which player – A or B – is a computer and which is a human. The interrogator is limited to using the responses to written questions to make the determination.

ELIZA

In 1966, Joseph Weizenbaum created a program which appeared to pass the Turing test.

The program worked by examining a user's typed comments for keywords. If a keyword is found, a rule that transforms the user's comments is applied, and the resulting sentence is returned. If a keyword is not found, ELIZA responds either with a generic riposte or by repeating one of the earlier comments. In addition, ELIZA modeled to replicate the behavior of a Rogerian psychotherapist, allowing ELIZA to be "free to assume the pose of knowing almost nothing of the real world." Weizenbaum's program was able to fool some people into believing that they were talking to a real person, with some subjects being "very hard to convince that ELIZA is not human." Thus, ELIZA is claimed by some to be one of the programs (perhaps the first) able to pass the Turing Test.

Loebner Prize

The Loebner Prize provides an annual platform for a practical Turing Tests with the first competition held in November 1991. It is underwritten by Hugh Loebner. The silver (text only) and gold (audio and visual) prizes have never been won.

However, the competition has awarded the bronze medal every year for the computer system that, in the judges' opinions, demonstrates the "most human" conversational behavior among that year's entries.

Artificial Linguistic Internet Computer Entity (A.L.I.C.E.) has won the bronze award on three occasions in recent times (2000, 2001, 2004). Learning AI Jabberwacky won in 2005 and 2006.

Brillig Understanding, Inc.

Rose is a yuppie who has an unorthodox family and quirky attitudes to life. You'll find her secretive on some subjects as her work has made her aware how under surveillance we all are.

Our Rose demo is pretty much as she was entered in the 2015 Loebner competition, except that she is no longer at the tournament but back home in San Francisco. There is no talking head for Rose at the moment so you can talk using the text interface \(which for Chrome/Safari can do speech\).

Rose is scripted in ChatScript by Bruce Wilcox with dialog by Bruce and Sue Wilcox

Qualifying Answers by Rose

Questions:

Rose

Hi, I'm Andrew. Who are you?

Yes, I already know your name is Andrew.

How are you today?

Good, thanks. How are you?

Are you a human?

Of course I am human. Aren't we all?

Can you answer this question?

Sure. Fire away.

Do you like tea?

Sure, I like tea. Haven't had any recently though.

If a bed doesn't fit in a room because it's too big, what is too big?

I don't even want to pretend that.

Questions:

If Alex lent money to Joe because they were broke, who needed the money?

huh?

Should Greece leave the Euro?

Seems like a nice place.

How many words are in this question?

There are 7 words in the sentence: how many words are in this question.

What colour is the sea?

Reflective.

How many presidents of the US were called Bush?

I have heard of President Bush.

Questions:

What would you like to drink?

I equally drink microbrew beer, wine, and cocktails. It all depends on who I'm with.

Will you please tell me the length of your hair?

Medicine and anatomy are an important field of study. But I'd never make a good doctor. I'm too squeamish about various body parts.

What would you say if I gave you a box of chocolates?

I would probably giggle.

Do you play Chess?

I like board games, and played a lot as a child. I haven't that much time these days.

Qualifying Answers by Rose (Cont)

Questions:

Rose

How do you think it's going?

I'm good. How are you?

What was my first question?

(Hi, I'm Andrew. Who are you?)

Did you tell me already and I forgot? With the advent of video games, many people have given up playing card or board games. How about you?

Did you see the Turing film?

Alan Turing is one of my heroes.

Why not?

He did brilliant work under very difficult conditions.

Are you on Twitter?

I have accounts on all of the social networking sites but don't post things on them. I just data-mine them.
